51. Read the passage below carefully and answer the questions that follow in full sentences.

One Saturday Bbala boarded a taxi from Kampala to Taxi Park. He was going to visit his grandparents in Fort Portal. It was a quarter past one O'clock when the taxi started on its journey.

At first the taxi moved very slowly towards the Clock Tower. As usual there was a traffic jam around the place. It took about an hour for the traffic jam to clear. Bbala wondered if he could reach Fort Portal before dark.

Once the taxi was out of Kampala the driver increases the speed. He was, however very careful not to endanger the lives of other road users. The road had a tarmac surface all the way to Mityana. From Mityana to Fort Portal, the road had murram surface. The tax had not gone far from Mityana when it stopped. There was a bus right across the road. The taxi could move neither around the front of the bus nor around the back. There was a crowd of people around the bus. The taxi driver got out to see what had happened. The bus was empty except the driver, who was trying to start the bus again and again. However hard he tried the bus could not start.

The taxi driver turned to the crowd and asked them why they did not help to push the bus out of the way. They said they could not unless they were given money first. "If we ride in the bus, the conductor asks us to pay the fare, so we don't see why we should push the bus without being paid." One of them said.

Half an hour later, a policeman appeared. After studying the situation, he ordered everybody to push the bus. Since there were plenty of strong young men, the bus was soon moved out of the way. Bbala and other passengers got back into the taxi to continue with their journey. Indeed it was quite dark when Bbala arrived at his grandparent's home.

What traffic	problem did he see around the Clock Tower?

Land, Land
Land the surface of the earth
That is not on the sea
Land the most important asset
That man can ever have
Land owned by individuals
But the state can acquire it
In order to develop it.

Land, Land
Can be used to fight poverty
Through cultivation, rearing aniamsl and fish
But why are many Ugandans poor?
Many have talked and written article
But never give solutions
To the problem of poverty
It is time to show people
The wealth they ared sitting on.

Land, Land
Crops from land yield money
People in urban areas
Practice urban farming
Done in sacks filled with soil
Vegetables like greens
Are products of such farming.

Land, Land
Cattle rearing also yields cash
An acre of pasture land
Can feed dairy cattle
To produce thirty to forty
Litres of milk daily
Therefore let us join hands
To fight poverty so that
We do not regret in future

Dear Keza,

I hope you are keeping yourself safe from the COVID -19 pandemic. For my case, I am following all the directives and guidelines strictly.

I am writing to inform you that my father has opened for me a poultry farm behind our home. He has so far bought one hundred birds. This project has kept me busy since I have to monitor the feeding of the birds and the cleaning of the poultry house. It is a good project and I expect the birds to start laying eggs soon.

I dearly inform you to request your parents to open for you a project that can help you to learn how to survive without going to the office. These projects may include; piggery, poultry, baking, tailoring and farming since all of them can be done from home.

I will be grateful to hear from you soon.

Your friend,

Ruth Mukisa

52. Read the passage below very carefully and then answer the questions about it in full sentences.

TABOOS AND OUR ENVIROMENT

In our present time, governments all over the world are very much concerned about environment conservation. To show their concern, these governments set up bodies whose major duty is to protect and preserve the environment. Such bodies are in charge of both the fauna and flora.

As regards Uganda, the major bodies responsible for protecting our environment include NEMA, NFA and UWA. Both the government and other international bodies like UNEP give full support to these bodies.

NEMA is the overall body which ensures that our environment is not brought to extinction. NFA is charged with the specific responsibility of protecting our forests, whereas UWA is in charge of the wild animals in the country, especially in game parks.

Nevertheless, one may wonder how our ancestors preserved the environment yet they did not have any of the bodies mentioned above. For had they not been responsible citizens, the present generation would have no plants and animals to be proud of. Most parts of the globe would be mere deserts.

How, then, did they ensure security and safety of the environment? The answer is that they never used guns or any other weapons you may think of. Instead they employed taboos. A taboo is a strong social or religious custom forbidding a particular act or word. So, our ancestors used taboos to save the "innocent" environment. For example, if they wanted to protect a certain forest, they would claim that there was a ghost in it, and whoever would dare go there for trees or herbs would be "taught a lesson" by the "guardian" ghost. In addition, certain animals were also regarded as sacred or holy. Thus, such animals survived extinction. One such animal was the skink (lizard–like reptile without scales like an agama lizard). It was believed that if anyone killed this reptile, he would never go to heaven! That"s why up to this day, no person harasses this animal, which is so common in people"s homes. How wise were these men and women of long ago. If these so called "ancient" people knew how to protect their environment, I think you and I, the "modern" people, ought to be more aggressive in protecting our lovely environment.

SECTION B: 50 MARKS

(Questions 51 to 55 carry 10 marks each)

51. Read the passage below and answer in full sentences the questions that follow.

At Kiyunga trading centre, there was a seamstress called Njala. She was such a skilled seamstress that she designed and sewed ladies' and men's clothes in all fashions. Sometimes she sewed wedding and graduation gowns with attractive designs. All her garments were purchased at affordable prices despite the fact that they were nice-looking.

Her eldest daughter, Babirye was a designer too. She used to knit school sweaters and also wove nice table cloths as well as carpets. She had a big stall in the African Heritage Village in Kampala City. Babirye also carved beautiful sculptures. Her sculptures were mostly bought by foreign tourists from USA, Sweden, China, and Tanzania because they were decorated with attractive designs.

Njala and her daughter earned a lot of money daily from both local and foreign customers. This enabled them to expand their business and train their siblings as well. In addition, Njala and Babirye usually exhibited their products at the Uganda Manufacturers Association ground at Lugogo. This did not only help them to advertise their products but also to widen their market.

Here we are on the farmer's farm,

Happily suckling our calves

On the warm fresh milk from our breasts.

Some flowing to the farmer's heart.

The farmer takes care of us day by day, As we feed on the rich pasture daily.

We stay with our friends,

The sheep bleat with their lambs.

The pigs grunt in the sty,

Piglets squeal nearby,

Nanny goats bleat with their kids

Billy goats bleat with their kids

As the goatherd takes them to the hills to graze.

Life is not always easy, you know, For the farmer selects us one by one, To the abattoir for slaughter.

For beef, mutton or pork,

To feed on and grow healthy, After which we are soon forgotten.

51. Read the story below and answer the questions about it in full sentences.

Kagoya is a twelve year old girl. She is in Primary Seven at Wale-Wale Primary School. She comes from a humble background. She lives with her parents. She has two brothers and two sisters.

Kagoya likes her studies very much. Every day, she wakes up very early to prepare and walk to school, two kilometers from home. When she gets to school, she attends all her lessons. She does all the exercises and correction of the questions she has not passed.

Although Kagoya does not pass exams very highly, her teachers like her for her discipline, commitment to class work and engaging herself in other school activities. They know that she is able to get a first grade in her Primary Leaving Examination. When school closes every evening, Kagoya walks quickly home.

The moment she reaches home, she sits down to do hand-work. Some days she weaves mats, other days she knits table cloths. Kagoya is so skilled at handwork.

Every Saturday, Kagoya and her siblings take their products to Mugaige market. As soon as they arrive there, people buy the products within a short time. They collect a lot of money. Kagoya spends a little part of the money to buy threads and colours, some books, pens and pencils. They also buy some tomatoes and vegetables for home use.

When they reach home, they handover the rest of the money to Mr. Mwanamoiza their father. On the second day of the week, he takes the money to the bank, saving it for future development.

How many people are in Kagoya's home?
Which correction does Kagoya do?
Why do Kagoya's teacher like her?
How does Kagoya move to school every day?
What makes Kagoya's hand-work beautiful?
Where does Kagoya sell her products?

Hey man!
Be informed that
We are not happy with you,
You cause pain to our bodies
Hurt to our spirits.

Hey man!
Our children are daily food,
To your children, cows and goats.You can't allow our children to grow,
Big enough to make big forests.

Hey man!
Have you not remembered,
We are of use to you?
By the creator's own plan?
We make rain for you.

Hey man!
Our stems and roots are cut,
By our greedy relatives
Stop mistreating us Mr. Man.
Mr. and Mrs. Tree are tired!

In the end, we shall all enjoy a good lesson in a clean classroom environment. Being comfortable enables us to concentrate in class. Other pupils should then mop the classroom after it has been swept. A clean classroom environment makes us comfortable during lessons. This roster will indicate the pupils who are to do different activities during cleaning each day. Now, how can we involve everybody in cleaning the classroom? These activities are mainly sweeping and mopping.

51. Read the passage below carefully and answer the questions that follow in full sentences.

The reptiles include alligators, crocodiles, lizards, snakes and turtles, the amphibians include frogs, toads, newts and salamanders. Reptiles have scales and lay their eggs in water or damp places.

One of the most interesting things about a snake is the way it sheds its skin. As the snake grows, the skin becomes tight and new skin forms underneath. When the snake is ready to shed, it twins itself around sticks and rocks to help get the skin off. Its shed skin comes off over the eyes as well as every other part of the body. Rattle snakes do not get a new rattle every year, but every time the skin is shed, which may be two or three times a year.

Snakes are often referred to as poisonous and non-poisonous. The non poisonous snakes are the commonest. All poisonous snakes have triangular heads are not poisonous. All snakes have teeth. The poisonous snakes have two fangs, which are hollow through the centre like a long thin needle. At the base of these fangs are sacs of poison. The snake has these fangs to kill its food and protect itself. Poisonous snakes do not go out of their way to attack human beings, unless they are frightened. Snakes do not have ears, but receive vibrations through the forked tongue. The eggs of snakes are oval in shape but not egg-shaped.

Turtles are harmless creatures. The only one that really bites is the snapping turtle. This Turtles has almost not under shell and cannot hide himself within a shell. So its jaws are usually strong. Turtles do not have teeth, but their jaws are sharp and strong. Turtles live in the water and some on land. All breathe with lungs and those that live in the water have to come up for air. Turtles' eggs are round. The baby turtle has its shell when hatched from the egg.

Frogs eggs are laid in a mass that is surrounded with Jelly. Some of the tree frogs lay their eggs separately, each one covered with jelly. Toads lay their eggs in long strings of jelly with the egg as dotted along the strings. Frogs and toads hatch from the egg as tadpoles. Tadpoles eat only plant life usually the green scum (spirogyra). It is found in shallow ditches and places in ponds and rivers. Toads and frogs eat only animal life – usually insects, small fish, tadpoles, earth worms and smaller toads and frogs. Tadpoles breathe by gills: the adult toad has lungs. They both catch their food by means of tongues and jaws.

Both toads and frogs shed their skins. We see many snakes skins in the woods but never the skin of the frog or toad. The frog's skin is usually shed in water and floats away in small pieces. The toad swallows its skin in the act of getting it off.

Frogs and toads take in water through their skin, and so must be kept where it is damp. The common toad will eat earth worms and are often hurt and killed.

SECTION B

51. Read the passage below and answer the questions in full sentences.

When I was a little boy, I used to think that radio presenters were inside the radio. One day, I took a knife and wanted to open the radio to see those people. As I was trying to open it, my father came in. He asked me what I was doing with the knife. "I want to see the people who talk inside the radio," I replied innocently. He got the knife from me and explained many things to me.

He said, "The people you hear talking on radio are many miles away from here. In fact, they are in the broadcasting studios in Kampala." "In Kampala! Then how is it possible that we can hear them in Gulu?" I interrupted. "You see, child, those people are called presenters. When the presenter speaks, the sound waves are sent to the radio through the electronic system," My father labored to explain. I was not convinced until he took me to the radio station in Kampala. I saw the presenters in the studios.

"Excuse me where did those children pass to enter inside that television? The village girl curiously asked. I burst into laughter. I remembered the things I used to think about a radio and people being inside it. She looked puzzled when she saw me laughing. I composed myself and started explaining to her. I said, "Those children are not inside the television set. They are in the studio; the words and pictures we see now reach us through electronic system.

After that programme, I reached for the DVD player and showed them how it works. I pressed the eject button and placed in the DVD(Digital Video Disc), then I pressed the play button and there the song started.

"The song is very good. I like the way the boys are dancing to the song." That song is called Bolingo. It was sung by Eddy Kenzo." We all ended our day happily.
