Lesson 1: The Cradle of Human Race in East Africa

By the end of this lesson you should be able to:

- i) mention the importance of the study of human origin.
- ii) list the sources of history.
- iii) give the meaning of each source of history.
- iv) mention the examples of oral and written sources of history.

Materials you need:

- pens
- a notebook or exercise book
- Social Studies textbooks for Primary Six (if possible)
- Primary School Atlas for Uganda (if you have one)
- a dictionary

Introduction

In P.5, you studied about the people of Uganda. You learnt about the people of pre-colonial Uganda, the major ethnic groups of people, their origin, and places in which they settled in Uganda. You went ahead and studied about the social, political and economic organisation of each ethnic group.

Step I

Remember that the people of East Africa migrated from different areas to settle in places they are found in today. There are factors that caused their migration from their cradleland and their settlement in areas they occupy today.

Step II

- a) You need to know the importance of studying about the origin of the human race. We study the importance of human origin because:
 - i) It helps us to know how human beings developed up to their current stage.
 - ii) It helps us to know the activities which were carried out by our ancestors.
 - iii) It helps us to know and maintain our culture.

- b) You need to also know that there are different ways we came to know about the past and present events. This is through using different sources of history. The sources of history are:
 - Oral tradition
 - Linguistics
 - Anthropology
 - Archaeology
 - Written records
 - i) Oral tradition

This is the information passed down by word of mouth from one generation to another. It is also called oral history. It is the oldest form of recording information.

Sources of oral tradition

- legends
- myths
- proverbs
- riddles
- poems

NOTE: The advantage of using oral tradition is that it is a cheap way of getting information. However, this source of history has one disadvantage because the information can be changed by the narrators to suit their interests.

Can you narrate one of the legends you have ever heard?

ii) Linguistics

Linguistics means the study of the origin and development of language. It helps us to know the movement and settlement of people of long ago. It also helps us to trace the origin of the people.

- iii) Written records
- It is also called written history.
- Written records are the written information about past events.
- iv) The sources of written history
- Novels, diaries, journals, newspapers, letters, magazines, history books.

Advantages of written records

- The information is not easily changed.
- The information can be kept for a long time.

Disadvantages of written records

 It is expensive to buy the sources of written records.

v) Archaeology

Archaeology is the scientific study of material about the past. Archaeology helps us to know the tools which the people of the past used, the activities they did and the places where they settled.

Lesson 2: Archaeologists and Their Findings in East Africa

By the end of this lesson you should be able to:

- iii) locate and name examples of archaeological sites on the map of East Africa.
- iv) mention the importance of archaeological sites.
- v) draw a sketch map of East Africa showing archaeological sites.

Materials you will need:

- pencils
- pens
- SST textbooks for P.6 (if possible)
- Primary School Atlas for Uganda (if you have one at home)
- a notebook or exercise book

Introduction

Step I

Historians believe that East Africa is the origin of the human race. This is the reason why it is called the cradleland of the human race. Historians came to this conclusion after they made some archaeological findings.

Step II

- The people who dig and study the remains of the people who lived in the past, their tools, and the animals they kept are called archaeologists.
- ii) The remains of the people, animals and plants that lived long ago are called fossils.

iii) The process of digging remains or fossils is called excavation. The people who dig out fossils are called excavators.

Some fossils that archaeologists study are as follows:

Human skull	Stone axe	Arrow and bow
Spear	Bolos	Pot
Bone needle	Dog's skull

Note:

- i) The places where excavations are carried out are called archaeological sites or Stone Age sites or Early Man settlement sites.
- The process of determining how old fossils are, is called dating.
- The classification of different iii) fossils dug up according to the depth of the ground in which they are found is called stratigraphy.

Examples of archaeologists in East Africa

- Dr Louis Leakey and his wife (in 1959)
- They discovered the oldest skull of man at Olduvai Gorge in Tanzania.
- The oldest skull of man was named Zinjanthropus.
- Anthropus means man and Zinjanthropus means black man.
- 2. Dr. Merrick Posnasky
- He discovered the remains of the Bachwezi at Bigobyamugenyi.
- 3. J.S. Kirkman and Dr. Nevilleh Chittik
- They excavated the remains or fossils at the coast of East Africa.

- He acquired guns from slave traders that were used for protection and raiding the neighbours.
- He controlled the trade routes.

Nyungu Ya Mawe

- He succeeded Chief Mirambo.
- He developed a centraliseed system of administration.
- Nyungu Ya Mawe means 'pot of stones' which symbolised his strength and ability to rule the empire.
- succeeded He was by his daughter Mugalula, who was later overthrown by the German colonialists.

Lesson 13: The Factors Which Influenced Settlement and Population

Growth in the Past and Present

By the end of this lesson, you should be able to discuss factors that influenced settlement in the past and today.

Materials you will need:

- pens
- SST textbooks (if possible)
- exercise books

What to do:

- Read the instructions carefully before doing the activity.
- Mind your spelling and handwriting as you do the activity.

Introduction

In P.5, you learnt about factors that determine settlement. We hope you still remember them. In this lesson, you are to learn about the factors which influence human settlement. The people you see in different areas settled there due to different factors.

Step I

- Write down the meaning population.
- Ask your parents/guardian to help you know why they decided to settle where they are and why they think some areas have many people and others few.

Step II

Factors that influenced settlement of people in the past

- Fertile soil
- The presence of pasture and water
 - Availability reliable rainfall
- The absence of crop pests, diseases and parasites
 - Availability of enough land for settlement.

Factors that Influence Human Settlement Today

- The presence of fertile soil
- Improved social services
- The presence of heavy rainfall
- The existence of many job opportunities

- Availability of better paying iobs
- Urbanisation
- Industrialisation

Activity

- 1. State any two factors that influenced the settlement of early people.

- Using your neighbouring villages or homes, take note of the way houses are spread out.
- Mind your spelling and handwriting as you do the activity.

Introduction

In P.5, you studied about population distribution. The way people are spread out in an area or country differs from place to place. Some areas in East Africa have large numbers of people and others small numbers. This means some areas are densely populated and others are sparsely populated.

In this lesson, you are going to learn why some areas have many people and others few. You will also be able to identify the areas in East Africa with large and small populations.

Step I

i) Find out some areas in your locality

- with large and small numbers of people.
- Ask any adult at home to help you know why the number of people above differs.

Step II

- i) Using the map of East Africa, locate areas with:
 - large populations
 - small populations
- ii) Consult your parents about why the population differs from place to place or country to country.
- iii) With the help of an adult at home, find out why there are more people in towns than in villages.
- iv) With guidance from any elder, discuss:
 - the benefits of living in towns rather than villages.
 - the benefits of living in villages rather than towns.

A map of East Africa showing population distribution

Activity

- 1. What is population distribution?
- 2. Write down any four factors that influence population distribution.
- 3. Name any four places in East Africa with large numbers of people (use the map above).

- 9. Name any two jobs some people do in the following areas:
 - villages
 - ii) urban areas

Lesson 15: Factors that Influence Population Growth in the Past and Present

By the end of the lesson, you should be able to:

- i) give the meaning of population
- ii) mention the most populated and least populated country in East Africa.
- iii) state factors that influence population growth.
- iv) mention the effects of population growth.
- v) give the ways of controlling population growth.

Materials to use:

- exercise books
- an SST textbook, if possible

What to do

- Read the instructions carefully before you do the activity.
- Mindyour spelling and handwriting.

Introduction

In Primary Five, you learnt about reasons for population growth. Look at members of your family. Do you think some years back the family members were the same number as you are today?

Step I

- Population growth refers to the general increase in the number of people living in an area.
- Population growth rate refers ii)

to the rate at which population size changes.

Step II

- There are many factors that make the number of people increase in an area. Think about the marrying of wives, early marriage and failure to use family planning methods. All these factors contribute to population growth. Giving birth to many children will lead to an increase in the number of people.
- Factors influence that ii) population growth
 - High fertility rate in women
 - Failure to use family planning methods
 - Early marriages
 - Religious beliefs
 - Improved health facilities
 - Polygamy
 - Immigration
 - Improved diet
 - Low death rates
- Dangers of population growth iii)
 - It may lead to environmental degradation.
 - Ιt may lead tο unemployment.
 - It may lead to land shortage.
- Ways of reducing population iv) growth
 - Use of family planning methods.
 - Discouraging early marriage/polygamy.
 - Teaching people the dangers of a large family.

- 1. With the help of your parents/ quardian, find out
 - a) the causes of large families
 - b) the dangers of large families.
 - c) disadvantages of population growth for the environment.
 - d) ways in which a large number of children in a family can be avoided.
- 2. Ask your parent/guardian to help you know how each of the following can lead to population growth.
 - a) Early marriage
 - b) Polygamy
 - c) Religious belief
- 3. How can the governments of East Africa control population growth?

INTEGRATED SCIENCE

Before we start our lesson, do not forget that COVID-19 is a disease affecting every country in the world:

To protect yourself from COVID-19;

- Stay at home.
- Keep a distance of at least 1 metre from other people.
- Wash your hands very well with soap and water regularly.
- Do not touch the soft parts (eyes, nose, mouth) because the virus can pass through these to enter the body.
- Do not to spit anywhere.
- Cover your mouth with a tissue when coughing.
- Use a tissue for your nose when sneezing.

INTEGRATED SCIENCE SELF-STUDY MATERIAL

Primary Six (P6) LESSON 1: Classification of Animals

Introduction

The world has very many types of animals. Animals that belong to the same type have similar characteristics. One way to group all these animals is to organise them by similar characteristics or by properties. The process of organizing these animals according to their properties is called classification. To classify means to put in groups.

Activity 1

In this activity, you are going to classify animals in your environment (put them in groups) according to their properties. The animals in your environment can be found in the soil, on trees, in stagnant waters, in grass, or living on land.

- 1. Make a list of all animals in your environment and those you know about.
- 2. Create groups of animals according
 - The way they live
 - The way they feed
 - iii) The way they move
 - The way they reproduce (give

Summary

You will realise that animals in the environment are different from each other. Some are very small, others have limbs, some do not have limbs, others have wings, some are very harmful while others are harmless and many other observations.

LESSON 2:

Classification of Animals

Introduction

In the previous activity, you were able to group animals by the way they live, move, and reproduce. In this lesson, you will learn more about the different body structures which animals in the environment have.

Activity 2

Observation one

1. Ask one of your brothers or sisters to bend forward.

- 2. Press your fingers on his/her neck firmly.
- 3. Run your fingers along the middle of the back from the neck down to the waist.

What exactly do you feel?

Observation two

- 1. Take an observation of some domestic animals such as goats, cows, rabbits, dogs or any other you can find around home or in your neighborhood.
- 2. Look at their body formation and structure.
- 3. You must have felt or observed a long tough bone that runs from the neck to the waist of your brother or sister. The long tough bone observed is called a backbone. Animals in the environment with such a bone are called vertebrates. Animals without a backbone are called invertebrates.

Activity 3

- 1. Using the list of animals in your environment, classify them vertebrates and invertebrates.
- 2. In your notebook, name any six vertebrate animals.
- 3. Write short notes on;
 - a) how they reproduce.
 - b) the way they feed their young ones.
 - c) the way they obtain food.
- 4. Write a short story about how to take care and protect vertebrates and invertebrates.

MATHEMATICS

Primary Six

Topic 1: Whole Numbers

LESSON 1: Place values of numbers

In this lesson, you will need counters. These can be bottle tops, stones, sticks, bean seeds or any anything you can use to count.

The Hindu-Arabic system uses ten symbols for counting. These are 0, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9. These ten symbols are called digits. To show you how the number system works, we are going to use a number place. Consider a number place to be a space that can hold only one digit at a time. The diagram below shows the counters and the equivalent digit written in a number place.

The system works well up to nine because we have one space and the number written is only one symbol. Remember, we have used all the digits but also the number space is used up. To continue counting, we need to form groups. If we add one more counter, we make ten. Get the ten counters into one group to form a group of ten counters. This helps us to create another number space that allows us to count in groups of ten.

The number place that helps us count in groups of ten is called the tens place. It helps us count more using the same ten digits we had at the beginning. The number place we started with is called ones because we used it to count one counter at a time.

Stop and Think!

How would you explain the diagram below using groups of ten and number of counters?

As you continue adding more counters, there comes a time when you get 9 groups of ten and 9 counters.

If we add one more counter, it means we are forming another group of tens which cannot be expressed using our nine digits in the tens place. So we create another bigger group that is made up of ten groups of ten or one hundred counters. This comes with creating another number space that helps us count such groups.

The process of creating new number spaces continues whenever you need more space for new counters. Please note that each time we add a new number place, it represents groups that are ten times bigger than the previous number place. For example;

- Tens is ten times bigger than ones
- Hundreds is ten times bigger than tens

Thousands is ten times bigger than hundreds. And the pattern continues as shown in the figure below.

This arrangement helps us understand the meaning of the term place values. The number place that the digit is in determines its value hence the name place value. If you consider a number 2, its value is two ones when it is in the place for ones, but the same digit in the place for thousands, its value is two thousand.

Activity 1

State the place value for 3 in each of the numbers below

- 1. 36.486
- 2. 8,360
- 3. 868,623
- 3,709,718
- 5. 832

LESSON 2: Value of numbers

Writing numbers in expanded form

Writing numbers in expanded form requires you to make use of the place values. For example, let us use the number 5437 to explain the expanded

When writing a number in expanded form, we make use of zeros to show the place value for each of the digits in a number.

In the number 5437,

5 is in the thousands place. Its value is 5,000

4 is in the hundreds place. Its value is 400

3 is in the tens place. Its value is 30

7 is in the ones place. Its value is 7

Therefore 5437 = 5,000 + 400 + 30 + 7 in the expanded form.

In 2385, the place values of the digits are given below:

Hence, 2385 = 2000 + 300 + 80 + 5

Activity 2

Write the following numbers in expanded form:

- 1. 8,463,973
- 2. 93,749
- 3. 73,499
- 4. 936,492
- 5. 1,947,980

Writing numbers in words

Place values can also be helpful in writing a number in words. This is normally used in banking halls for filling in a deposit or withdrawal slip.

Let us try out writing the number 1427596 in words.

Since we are still learning, let us start by drawing a place value chat. We shall pick the information from the place value chart and use it to write in words.

М	ILLION	S	TH	OUSANE	OS
Hundreds of millions	Tens of millions	Millions	Hundreds of thousands	Tens of thousands	Thousands	Hundreds	Tens	Ones
		1	4	2	7	5	9	6

What is the value of each digit?

i) The value of 1 is million	1,000,000
ii) The value of 4 is four hundred thousand	400,000
iii) The value of 2 is twenty thousand	20,000
iv) The value of 7 is seven thousand	7,000
v) The value of 5 is five hundred	500
vi) The value of 9 is ninety	90
vii) The value of 6 is six	6
	1,427,596

Therefore, 1427596 is one million, four hundred twenty seven thousands, five hundred ninety six.

- 1. What is the value of 2 in number 2768?
- 2. Write nine million three hundred four thousand two hundred one in figures.
- 3. What digit is in the ones place 58932?
- 4. Imagine you are asked to deposit your school fees into the school account. On the bank slip you have to write the money in both figures and words. If your school fees is 876201, how will you write it in words?

Lesson 3: Roman numerals

Introduction

You covered Roman numerals in Primary 4 and 5.

Remember, the Roman numerals are expressed by letters of the alphabet: I, V, X, L, C, D, and M. Roman numerals are used from time to time on book chapter headings, and on clocks. Roman numerals help you to read and understand time on some watches and clocks.

In this lesson, you will need to have the books, watches and clocks where the Roman numerals are used, for your reference.

Phase 1

In Primary Four and Five, you learnt the four basic letters to read and write in Roman numerals: Write them in Hindu Arabic numerals

Activity 4

Make a watch like the one below from a hard box. Move the hands of the clock and tell time in Hindu Arabic numerals to the people at home.

Phase 2:

Use the chart below to help you answer the following questions.

One	I	Eleven	XI	Thirty	XXX
Two	II	Twelve	XII	Forty	XL
Three	III	Thirteen	XIII	Fifty	L,
Four	IV	Fourteen	XIV	Sixty	LX
Five	V	Fifteen	xv	Seventy	LXX
Six	VI	Sixteen	XVI	Eighty	LXXX
Seven	VII	Seventee n	XVII	Ninety	хс
Eight	VII	Eighteen	XVII	One hundred	С
Nine	IX	Nineteen	XIX	Five hundred	D
Ten	х	Twenty	xx	One thousand	М

Remember that

- 1. A letter repeats its value at times 3 or 2 times. Look at this (XXX = 30,CC = 200, etc.).
- 2. If one or more letters are placed after another letter of greater add that amount. For example, VI = 6 (5 + 1 = 6)LXX = 70 (50 + 10 + 10 = 70)MCC = 1200 (1000 + 100 + 100 =1200)
- If a letter is placed before another letter of greater value, subtract that amount. For example:

$$IV = 4 (5 - 1 = 4)$$

$$XC = 90 (100 - 10 = 90)$$

$$CM = 900 (1000 - 100 = 900)$$

Exercise

- 1. Write 57 using Roman numerals.
- 2.
- Write 138 using Roman numerals. Write 984 using Roman numerals.
- Write CMLVI using Hindu Arabic numerals.
- Write LXXXIV using Hindu Arabic numerals.
- What is the time indicated on the clock below in Hindu Arabic?

Word problem

- A teacher of Primary Six told his/ her class to report back to school on XXVII April MMXX after the lockdown caused by COVID-19 disease has been lifted. What date is this in Hindu Arabic system.
- 2. At Musa's home, brea fast is always served at VII O'clock everyday. Musa went to Rome and he was served breakfast at VII and XV minutes. Write the different times breakfast was served in Hindu Arabic.
- 3. As old the woman communicating to a friend found in Roman, she said "let us meet on November twenty eithgth 1990 at 3:00 PM". The friend never understood the date and time. Help this friend to change the date and time to Roman numerals.

Activity 5

You want to get a loan of Shs M from your friend, who says that you will pay him back with an additional of Shs D. You do not seem to get it all at once. Show how much you will pay him when you make a payment. Write your answer in Hindu Arabic numerals.

Topic 2: Operations on Whole Numbers Not Exceeding 9,999,999

Lesson: Addition of whole numbers with and without regrouping

Introduction

Adding two (or more) numbers means to find their sum (or total). The idea of regrouping is very important for understanding addition of larger numbers.

Phase 1

Addition without regrouping

Example: 563423 + 426322

Arrange the numbers according to their place value. Put ones under ones, tens under tens and so on before adding.

Addition is done right to left.

563423 +426322 989745

Addition of whole numbers with regrouping

117 + 15 =

Regrouping is easily used when relating it to place values.

Try to complete this number:

Exercise

1.	257897	2. 1,245,400	3.
	1234567
	+350654	+ 874621 +3	1134
	023

Word problem

Steps:

- 1. Read through the problem.
- 2. Determine what you are required to do.
- Use the place value chart and write the number in expanded form.
- 4. Write the number in word form.

People who have survived COVID -19 in USA are around 3 78924, in Spain 182,300 and in Italy around 39600. What is the total of the survivors?
